Question 1

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_001

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Remembering

Marks: 5

Question: Describe the raven's envy of the eagle and his decision to imitate him.

Answer Key: The raven lived down in a peaceful valley, but he was deeply unhappy with his simple life. High above in the mountains lived a majestic eagle. The raven watched with intense envy as the eagle swooped down from great heights with speed and precision, catching prey and carrying it away effortlessly. Desiring to be admired just like the eagle, the raven thought to himself that if only he could fly, hunt, and be as precise as the eagle, he would be great. Driven by this envy, he decided to imitate the eagle. He spent a full fortnight practicing flying and swooping skills in preparation for his planned attack.

Question 2

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_002

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Remembering

Marks: 5

Question: Narrate the story of the raven's attack on the sheep and its disastrous outcome.

Answer Key: After practicing swooping for a fortnight, the raven waited for the shepherd to bring his flock of sheep into the valley. Driven by vanity, the raven chose the fattest sheep of the flock as his target, believing that carrying away such a large prize would make tales of his skill travel in all directions. At what he thought was an opportune moment, he swooped down and clutched the sheep's back. However, his small talons got tangled in the sheep's dense, thick wool. He flapped his wings frantically, trying in vain to fly away, but he was completely stuck. The shepherd walked over, pulled the raven off the sheep, and threw him roughly onto the ground, injuring him severely.

Question 3

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_003

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: Explain the moral lesson 'Do not imitate others blindly' as demonstrated in Chapter 02.

Answer Key: The moral lesson 'Do not imitate others blindly' warns against copying the actions or lifestyles of others without considering one's own limitations. In Chapter 02, the raven admired the eagle's hunting ability and tried to copy him without realizing that he lacked the eagle's physical size, strength, and talon structure. His foolish attempt to carry off a fat sheep ended in failure, physical injury, and humiliation. The story teaches that everyone has unique capabilities, and trying to blindly copy someone else can lead to self-harm.

Question 4

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_004

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain the vocabulary words from Chapter 02: Swoop, Precise, Feat, Opportune, and Fortnight.

Answer Key: 1. Swoop: To fly down suddenly and rapidly through the air. Sentence*: The eagle swooped down to catch its prey.

2. Precise: Exact, clear, and accurate. Sentence: The eagle caught the sheep with precise timing.

3. Feat: An action showing extraordinary skill or strength. Sentence: The raven thought catching a fat sheep would be a great feat.

4. Opportune: A suitable or favorable moment. Sentence: The raven waited for an opportune time to attack.

5. Fortnight: A period of two weeks (14 days). Sentence: The raven practiced swooping for a fortnight.

Question 5

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_005

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: How did the raven's vanity lead directly to his downfall?

Answer Key: Vanity corrupted the raven's practical judgment. Had he attempted to catch a tiny insect or a small crumb, he might not have suffered physical harm. However, vanity convinced him that catching a small target would not win him fame. He deliberately selected the fattest, heaviest sheep in the flock because he wanted everyone to praise his impressive achievement. This extreme overconfidence blinded him to his physical weakness, resulting in his claws getting trapped and leading directly to his painful injury.

Question 6

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_006

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Describe the role of the shepherd in Chapter 02.

Answer Key: The shepherd represents the owner and protector of the flock. He observed the raven's foolish attempt to steal his fattest sheep. When he saw the raven struggling and stuck in the wool, he intervened immediately. He pulled the bird off the sheep to protect his animal and threw the raven roughly to the ground to punish the intruder. His action brought the raven's foolish fantasy to an abrupt, painful end.

Question 7

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_007

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What contrast does the fable draw between physical reality and foolish desire?

Answer Key: The fable contrasts the reality of biological limits with the foolishness of unchecked desire. Desire made the raven believe that two weeks of swooping practice could make him as strong as an eagle. However, physical reality proved that a raven's small body, weak wing muscles, and slender claws cannot lift a heavy mammal. Reality defeated desire the moment his claws got tangled in the wool.

Question 8

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_008

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Discuss how Chapter 02 teaches children about self-worth and self-acceptance.

Answer Key: Chapter 02 teaches children that every individual has unique strengths and limitations. The raven was unhappy simply because he compared himself to the eagle instead of appreciating his own gifts as a raven. The story encourages young readers to embrace self-acceptance, build upon their personal talents, and avoid damaging their self-worth through negative comparisons with peers.

Question 9

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_009

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Summarize the entire fable of 'The Raven that Wanted to be an Eagle' in five bullet points.

Answer Key: - An envious raven living in a valley admired a mountain eagle's impressive hunting skills.

- The raven practiced swooping for a fortnight, wishing to hunt just like the eagle.
- He foolishly chose the fattest sheep in a grazing flock to gain widespread fame.
- Upon swooping down, his claws got tangled in the sheep's thick wool, leaving him trapped.
- The shepherd pulled him off and threw him down, leaving the raven injured and teaching him not to imitate others blindly.

Question 10

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_010

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the setting of the story enhance the contrast between the raven and the eagle?

Answer Key: The setting places the eagle high up in the majestic mountains and the raven down in the low valley. The lofty mountains represent high achievement, strength, and dominance, while the valley represents modest, ground-level living. This geographical separation visually reinforces the vast gap in strength and status between the two birds.

Question 11

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_011

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Why did the raven think two weeks of practice would make him as strong as an eagle?

Answer Key: The raven suffered from naive overconfidence. He believed that flying technique was the only secret to the eagle's success. He failed to understand that the eagle's power came from millions of years of anatomical evolution, wing muscle density, and specialized talon structure, which practice alone cannot create.

Question 12

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_012

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain the physical mechanism that caused the raven to get stuck on the sheep.

Answer Key: The raven's talons are adapted for perching on branches, with slender, curved claws. When he slammed into the sheep's dense, curly wool fleece, his claws penetrated deep into the thick fibers. Lacking the muscular strength to tear through or pull out, the wool wrapped around his claws like a net, locking him in place.

Question 13

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_013

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: How does Aesop's use of animal characters make moral lessons easier for children to digest?

Answer Key: Animals simplify complex human flaws. By embodying envy and vanity in a raven, children can objectively observe the folly of bad choices without feeling personally attacked. The clear cause-and-effect structure makes the moral lesson memorable and easy to apply.

Question 14

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_014

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Describe the emotional arc of the raven from envy to practice, attack, and injury.

Answer Key: The raven begins in envious discontent, moves into enthusiastic determination during his fortnight of practice, reaches a peak of vain excitement during his attack, plunges into panic when stuck, and ends in physical pain and humbled regret on the ground.

Question 15

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_015

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: Why did the shepherd throw the raven roughly on the ground instead of keeping it?

Answer Key: The shepherd viewed the raven as a predatory nuisance attempting to harm his livestock. He threw it down roughly to punish the bird and deter any future attacks on his flock, acting out of protective duty as a livestock owner.

Marks: 5

Question: What advice would you give to a classmate who constantly tries to copy others?

Answer Key: I would advise them to identify their own unique interests and talents. Copying others prevents personal growth and can lead to embarrassing failures. Developing one's authentic abilities brings true satisfaction and respect.

Question 17

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_017

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

Question: How does the story demonstrate that overestimating one's ability leads to humiliation?

Answer Key: The raven boasted in his mind that catching a fat sheep would make his name famous across all directions. Instead of fame, his overestimation resulted in him getting tangled helplessly and being tossed aside by a shepherd, replacing expected glory with public humiliation.

Question 18

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_018

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

Question: Explain how the fable highlights the difference between appearance and reality.

Answer Key: Appearance: Swooping looked simple and easy when performed by the majestic eagle. Reality: Swooping onto heavy prey required immense muscular strength and specialized claws that the raven completely lacked.

Question 19

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_019

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: What role does the sheep play in the fable's conflict?

Answer Key: The sheep acts as a passive physical barrier. Its thick wool and heavy weight naturally defeat the raven without the sheep even needing to fight back, proving that the raven was defeated by his own choice rather than a battle.

Question 20

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_020

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: How does Chapter 02 build vocabulary skills in Class 5 students?

Answer Key: It introduces rich, descriptive vocabulary such as 'swoop', 'precise', 'feat', 'opportune', and 'fortnight', teaching students how precise word choice enhances narrative storytelling.

Question 21

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_021

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

Question: Re-write Chapter 02 from the perspective of the eagle watching from the mountain.

Answer Key: 'From my mountain perch, I saw the little black raven trying to copy my swoop. I watched him plunge toward a massive sheep. When his tiny claws got tangled in the fleece, I shook my head. He forgot that to hunt like an eagle, one must have the heart and claws of an eagle.'

Question 22

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_022

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

Question: Discuss how envy ruins personal peace of mind as illustrated by the raven.

Answer Key: The raven lived in a pleasant valley with plenty of food, yet he was perpetually unhappy because he spent his time staring up at the eagle. Envy prevented him from enjoying his own life, driving him into unnecessary danger.

Question 23

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_023

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What does the phrase 'tales of my feat would travel in all directions' reveal about the raven?

Answer Key: It reveals his intense desire for public validation and fame. He was not hunting out of hunger, but out of vanity to impress others and elevate his social standing.

Question 24

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_024

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: How does Chapter 02 fit into the overall Class 5 English literature curriculum?

Answer Key: It provides classical fable literature that balances realistic fiction, developing students' ability to analyze character flaws, comprehend figurative language, and extract universal ethical morals.

Question 25

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_025

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What is the significance of the raven being unable to fly for many days after the fall?

Answer Key: His temporary flightlessness serves as a physical reminder of his moral error. Being forced to stay grounded compelled him to reflect on his foolishness and accept his true identity as a valley bird.

Question 26

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_026

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Critically analyze the concept of 'blind imitation' as portrayed in Aesop's fable.

Answer Key: Blind imitation occurs when an individual copies the superficial actions of another without understanding the underlying requirements, capabilities, or consequences. In Chapter 02, the raven saw the eagle's successful outcome but failed to comprehend the anatomical power required. He copied the flight motion blindly. The fable illustrates that blind imitation stems from superficial observation and envy, inevitably leading to failure because it ignores fundamental individual differences.

Question 27

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_027

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Examine how the author uses cause-and-effect relationships to structure the plot.

Answer Key: The plot is built on a tight cause-and-effect chain:

1. Cause: Envy of eagle → Effect: Fortnight of swooping practice.
2. Cause: Vanity for fame → Effect: Target chosen is the fattest sheep.
3. Cause: Small claws vs thick wool → Effect: Talons trapped in fleece.
4. Cause: Inability to lift heavy weight → Effect: Shepherd catches and throws raven.
5. Cause: Rough landing → Effect: Injury and inability to fly for days.

Question 28

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_028

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Evaluate the psychological difference between healthy ambition and reckless hubris.

Answer Key: Healthy ambition involves setting challenging goals while recognizing personal starting points and working methodically within realistic boundaries. Reckless hubris involves arrogant overconfidence that ignores reality and safety for quick glory. The raven demonstrated hubris—he assumed two weeks of practice entitled him to conquer a heavy sheep, mistaking reckless arrogance for genuine capability.

Question 29

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_029

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Discuss the symbolic meaning of the raven's injured wings in the story's resolution.

Answer Key: The injured wings carry strong symbolic weight. Wings represent freedom, mobility, and bird identity. By attempting to fly beyond his natural station out of vanity, the raven temporarily lost the very thing that made him a bird—his ability to fly. His grounded state symbolizes how foolish arrogance strips away existing gifts and humbles the ego.

Question 30

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

*Question: Design a creative writing prompt for Class 5 students based on the fable's moral.

Answer Key: Prompt: 'Imagine a animal that tried to copy another animal's special talent (like a monkey trying to swim like a fish, or a frog trying to roar like a lion). Write a short fable describing their attempt, the outcome, and the lesson they learned.'

Question 31

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_031

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the shepherd's role reflect the enforcement of natural boundaries?

Answer Key: The shepherd represents external reality enforcing natural boundaries. When the raven breached physical limits by attacking farm livestock, the shepherd's swift intervention restored the natural order, demonstrating that foolish actions encounter firm real-world resistance.

Question 32

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_032

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Applying

Marks: 5

*Question: Compare the raven's mistake with a real-life situation involving peer pressure.

Answer Key: A student might see an expert athlete perform an advanced stunt and try to copy it without training, resulting in severe physical injury. Both situations stem from copying outcomes without possessing requisite preparation.

Question 33

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_033

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Analyze how the word 'opportune' is used ironically in the story.

Answer Key: The raven thought the timing was 'opportune' (perfect) for his triumph. Ironically, it was actually the worst possible moment because attacking a sheep guaranteed his claws would get trapped, turning an 'opportune' moment into a disaster.

Question 34

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_034

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain why self-awareness is considered a core life skill in primary education.

Answer Key: Self-awareness allows children to recognize their personal strengths, accept limitations, set realistic goals, and resist harmful peer pressure, ensuring healthy emotional development and physical safety.

Question 35

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_035

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the narrative convey the passivity of the sheep during the attack?

Answer Key: The sheep remains entirely passive, unaware of the raven's grand scheme. Its thick wool naturally traps the bird without any effort, emphasizing that the raven was defeated by his own foolish choice rather than a battle.

Question 36

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_036

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Describe how Aesop establishes character motivation in the first paragraph.

Answer Key: Aesop immediately establishes motivation by contrasting the raven's valley life with the eagle's mountain heights, explicitly describing the raven's inner thoughts of envy and desire to be admired.

Question 37

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_037

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Evaluate the effectiveness of using a 'fortnight' as the practice duration.

Answer Key: A fortnight (14 days) is long enough to show deliberate effort, proving the raven was committed, yet short enough to emphasize that practice cannot alter biological reality.

Question 38

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_038

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Applying

Marks: 5

*Question: How can educators use Chapter 02 to foster self-esteem in students?

Answer Key: Educators can guide students to identify their individual talents (art, writing, empathy) and celebrate unique traits rather than measuring self-worth against others' achievements.

Question 39

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_039

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Deconstruct the title 'The Raven that Wanted to be an Eagle'.

Answer Key: The title succinctly summarizes the core conflict: identity dissonance. 'The Raven' states who he is; 'Wanted to be an Eagle' states his impossible, envious desire that drives the entire tragedy.

Question 40

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_040

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

*Question: Construct an alternative scene where the raven asks the eagle for advice.

Answer Key: 'The raven flew to the mountain peak and asked, 'Eagle, teach me to hunt sheep!' The eagle replied kindly, 'Little raven, my heavy claws were made for sheep, but your nimble beak is made for seeds and insects. Master your own nature, for that is true wisdom.'

Question 41

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_041

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Critique the philosophical dilemma between striving for self-improvement and accepting limits.

Answer Key: The fable presents a subtle philosophical boundary. Striving for self-improvement is positive when aligned with personal potential. However, when ambition ignores fundamental biological or physical limits and is driven by vanity, it becomes destructive hubris. True wisdom lies in discerning the difference between achievable growth and impossible fantasy.

Question 42

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_042

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Deconstruct the literary archetype of the 'Icarus Fall' in Chapter 02.

Answer Key: Like the Greek myth of Icarus who flew too close to the sun on artificial wings, the raven attempts an elevated flight beyond his nature. Both characters experience temporary exhilaration followed by an inevitable, catastrophic fall to the ground, serving as universal archetypes warning against overreaching pride.

Question 43

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_043

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Synthesizing

Marks: 5

*Question: Synthesize the stylistic features of Aesop's fables present in Chapter 02.

Answer Key: 1. *Brevity: Concise, fast-paced storytelling without unnecessary description.

2. *Anthropomorphism: Animal characters exhibiting human emotions (envy, vanity).

3. *Binary Contrast: High mountain eagle vs low valley raven.

4. *Explicit Moral: Concluding sentence summarizing the ethical takeaway.

Question 44

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_044

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

Question: Formulate a assessment rubric for evaluating Class 5 student essays on Chapter 02.

Answer Key: - Fable Comprehension (25%): Accurate detail recall and plot sequencing.

- Character Analysis (25%): Explaining the raven's envy, vanity, and cognitive errors.
- Vocabulary Usage (25%): Correct application of terms like 'swoop', 'precise', 'feat'.
- Moral Application (25%): Relating 'Do not imitate blindly' to real-life personal choices.

Question 45

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_045

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

Question: Evaluate how Chapter 02 addresses cognitive dissonance in character behavior.

Answer Key: The raven experienced cognitive dissonance between his modest reality and his grand fantasy. To resolve it, he convinced himself that two weeks of swooping practice made him an eagle's equal, rationalizing a fatal choice.

Question 46

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_046

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Comparing

Marks: 5

Question: Compare the raven's motivation with the jackal's motivation in Chapter 02 of Book 3.

Answer Key: Both characters suffered from faulty reasoning: the jackal assumed drum noise was food due to greed; the raven assumed he could lift a sheep due to vanity. Both failed to verify reality before committing effort.

Question 47

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_047

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

Question: Discuss the ethical implications of livestock management as depicted by the shepherd.

Answer Key: The shepherd acted out of protective duty toward his domestic flock. His decisive intervention underscores the human responsibility to safeguard vulnerable animals from predatory threats.

Question 48

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_048

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Analyze how the narrative uses irony in the raven's expectation of 'tales of my feat'.

Answer Key: The raven expected tales of his glory to travel everywhere. Ironically, tales of his embarrassing failure and tangled claws became the famous fable passed down for centuries as a warning against folly.

Question 49

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_049

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Draft an analytical critique of the line: 'His talons got stuck in the thick hair on the sheep.'

Answer Key: This sentence marks the tragicomic climax. The word 'stuck' strips away all majestic pretenses of the attack, reducing the raven's grand ambition to a helpless, comical entanglement in sheep fleece.

Question 50

Question ID: BK05_CH02_LA_050

Type: Long Answer

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Synthesizing

Marks: 5

*Question: Synthesize the ultimate pedagogical value of Chapter 02 for primary school literature.

Answer Key: Chapter 02 seamlessly merges language development with character education, teaching children that authentic self-worth comes from accepting who we are rather than blindly imitating others.
