Question: Write a simple summary of Chapter 03 'The Turtle and the Swans'.

- Answer Key: Near a lake lived a talkative turtle with his best friends, a pair of swans. The turtle loved to talk and never listened to the swans' advice to think before speaking. During a hot summer, the lake dried up, so the friends decided to move to a bigger lake. Since the turtle could not fly, the swans came up with a plan: they held a wooden stick at both ends in their beaks and asked the turtle to bite the middle tightly with his mouth. They strictly warned him not to speak while flying. The turtle agreed, and they flew up into the sky. Villagers watched the unique sight in awe. Unfortunately, the talkative turtle could not stay quiet and opened his mouth to say, 'Look at all the people!' The moment he opened his mouth, he lost his grip and fell to his death. The moral is to think before you speak and control your tongue.

Question: Explain why the turtle opened his mouth while flying in the sky.

- Answer Key: While flying through the air, the unique sight of two swans carrying a turtle on a stick amazed the villagers below, who watched in awe. Seeing the crowd watching him triggered the turtle's foolish vanity. He felt an overwhelming urge to comment and show off. Unable to control his talkative habit, he opened his mouth to say, 'Look at all the people!', forgetting that his mouth was the only thing holding him to the stick.

Question: Deconstruct the psychological conflict between long-term goal (survival) and short-term impulse (speech).

His short-term impulse was blurting out a comment to satisfy immediate vanity. The immediate, accessible impulse defeated the delayed, abstract goal, illustrating how short-term gratification destroys long-term survival.
