Goddess Durga appeared and granted him a wish. Someshwar asked for the Sanjeevani booti, a magical herb that could bring the dead back to life.

After receiving the herb, Someshwar daydreamed about helping villagers and becoming the village Sarpanch. However, doubt crept into his mind about whether the herb actually worked. Question: Analyze how ambition, doubt, and foolishness combined to cause Someshwar's downfall.

- Answer Key: Someshwar's downfall resulted from a chain of three psychological flaws:

1. Ambition: Receiving divine power triggered greedy daydreams of becoming village Sarpanch.
2. Doubt: Insecurity about whether the booti would work made him question Goddess Durga's word.

Question: Examine the moral framework of Panchatantra stories as demonstrated in 'The Foolish Pandit'.

- Answer Key: Panchatantra stories teach Niti (practical wisdom and worldly conduct). Someshwar had devotion, but because he lacked Niti (common sense), his life ended tragically. This framework teaches readers that practical wisdom is essential for survival.

Long Answer Questions — Chapter 02: The Jackal and the Dhol

Category: Long Answer | Total: 50 Questions | Marks: 5 each

Question 1

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_001
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Remembering
- Marks: 5

Question: Narrate the complete story of 'The Jackal and the Dhol' in your own words.

- Answer Key: Once upon a time, a king won a long battle fought valiantly against a formidable enemy. To celebrate, he held a grand party with dancers, singers, and musicians. During the celebration, a dhol fell and rolled into the nearby forest. It got stuck in a tree where branches kept hitting it, producing a dham-dham sound.

A jackal passing by heard the sound and observed the dhol from a distance. He wrongly concluded that a soft, delicious animal was trapped inside the dried leather. Excited, he told his friend about the 'tasty animal.' At night, they went together and tore the leather on both sides with great effort. But they found absolutely nothing inside — the dhol was hollow and empty. Disappointed, they realised all their labour was wasted. The moral: Do not act without detailed information.

Question 2

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_002
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Understanding
- Marks: 5

Question: Describe the character of the jackal and explain why he is considered foolish.

- Answer Key: The jackal is curious, greedy, and impulsive:

- Curious: He investigated the strange sound in the forest.
- Greedy: He immediately assumed the sound meant food without checking.
- Impulsive: He told his friend and tore the dhol apart at night without verifying.
- Foolish: He drew conclusions from incomplete evidence (just sound), never tested his assumption, and wasted his entire night's effort for nothing.

Question 3

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_003
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Understanding
- Marks: 5

Question: Explain the moral 'Do not act without detailed information' using examples from the story.

- Answer Key: The moral warns against hasty action based on assumptions. In the story, the jackal heard the dham-dham sound and assumed a delicious animal was inside. He never looked inside, smelled for food, or tapped the dhol to check. He committed great effort to tear the leather, only to find nothing. If he had gathered detailed information first, he would have saved his effort.

Question 4

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_004
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Remembering
- Marks: 5

Question: How did the dhol end up in the forest and start making sounds?

- Answer Key: During the king's grand victory celebration, one dhol fell and rolled into the nearby forest. It rolled from place to place and finally got stuck in a tree in such a position that the tree's branches would hit it and produce dham-dham sounds whenever the wind blew.

Question 5

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_005
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Analyzing
- Marks: 5

Question: What is the significance of the king's celebration at the beginning of the story?

- Answer Key: The king's celebration sets up the entire plot. Without the victory party with music and performers, the dhol would never have fallen into the forest, and the jackal would never have been deceived by its sound. It serves as the inciting incident.

Question 6

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_006
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Remembering
- Marks: 5

Question: Describe the effort the jackals put into tearing the dhol and what they discovered.

- Answer Key: The two jackals worked with great physical effort, tearing the dried leather on both sides of the dhol. After much labour, they succeeded in removing the leather — but found nothing inside. The dhol was completely hollow and empty. All their effort was wasted, and they were deeply disappointed.

Question 7

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_007
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Understanding
- Marks: 5

Question: Explain the meanings of the vocabulary words: Valiantly, Formidable, and Conclude.

- Answer Key: 1. Valiantly: Bravely — the king fought the battle bravely.

3. Conclude: To form an opinion based on understanding — the jackal concluded that food was inside the dhol.

Question 8

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_008
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Understanding
- Marks: 5

Question: Why did the jackal decide the sound meant food was inside?

- Answer Key: The jackal heard the continuous dham-dham sound from the dhol. He concluded that something soft was being hit inside, and imagined it must be a delicious animal trapped between the dried leather of the drum. His greed and imagination led him to this wrong conclusion.

Question 9

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_009
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Applying
- Marks: 5

Question: What would have happened if the jackal had checked inside the dhol before tearing it?

- Marks: 5

Question: Why is the Panchatantra important for children's education?

Question 13

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_013
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Analyzing
- Marks: 5

Question: Describe the emotional journey of the jackals throughout the story.

- Answer Key: The jackals start with curiosity (hearing the sound), move to excitement (imagining food), build anticipation (planning the nighttime mission), invest effort (tearing leather), and end with deep disappointment (finding nothing).

Question 14

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_014
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Understanding
- Marks: 5

Question: Explain how sound can be deceptive in natural settings.

- Answer Key: In the forest, natural elements like wind, branches, and terrain can create sounds that resemble living creatures. The dhol's dham-dham was caused by branches, not an animal. This shows that sounds alone are unreliable evidence for conclusions.

Question 15

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_015
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Creating

- Marks: 5

Question: Write a letter from the jackal to his friend apologising for the wasted effort.

- Answer Key: Dear Friend,

I am truly sorry for leading you on a fool's errand last night. I heard a sound from the dhol and hastily assumed food was inside without checking. Because of my mistake, we both wasted our entire night tearing leather for nothing. I have learned that we must always verify our assumptions before acting. I promise to investigate properly next time.

Your regretful friend,

The Jackal

Question 16

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_016

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Analyzing

- Marks: 5

Question: Explain why going at night did not help the jackals succeed.

- Answer Key: Going at night only provided secrecy but did not change the fundamental problem: there was no animal inside the dhol. No amount of stealth or effort could create food where none existed. The timing was irrelevant to their flawed assumption.

Question 17

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_017

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Analyzing

- Marks: 5

Question: Analyse how greed affects the jackal's reasoning throughout the story.

- Answer Key: Greed for food drives every step: it makes the jackal imagine food from mere sound, prevents him from investigating carefully, motivates him to recruit his friend, and pushes both into exhausting labour. Greed clouded his judgement at every decision point.

Question 18

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_018

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Comparing

- Marks: 5

Question: Compare the jackal's story with the fable of 'The Fox and the Grapes'.

- Answer Key: Both characters act on desire without verification. The fox declares grapes 'sour' when he can't reach them (rationalisation); the jackal assumes food exists based on sound (false assumption). Both demonstrate flawed reasoning driven by desire.

Question 19

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_019

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Evaluating

- Marks: 5

Question: How does the story demonstrate the scientific method's importance?

- Answer Key: Science requires: 1) Observation 2) Hypothesis 3) Testing 4) Conclusion. The jackal observed (heard sound), hypothesised (animal inside), but SKIPPED testing and went straight to action. The story demonstrates what happens when you skip the testing step.

Question 20

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_020

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Applying

- Marks: 5

Question: What would be a safe way to investigate strange sounds in a forest?

Question 21

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_021

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Evaluating

- Marks: 5

Question: Discuss how this story builds vocabulary and inference skills.

Question 22

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_022

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Applying

- Marks: 5

Question: How could a teacher use this story for a class discussion on fake news?

- Answer Key: The teacher could draw parallels: just as the jackal trusted one unreliable signal (sound), people trust unverified social media posts. Discussion would cover verifying sources, seeking multiple evidence types, and thinking critically before sharing or acting.

Question 23

- Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_023

- Difficulty: Medium

- Bloom Level: Understanding

- Marks: 5

Question: Explain the concept of 'wasted labour' as shown in this story.

- Difficulty: Medium
- Bloom Level: Analyzing
- Marks: 5

Question 1

- Question ID: BK03_CH03_LA_001
- Difficulty: Easy
- Bloom Level: Remembering
- Marks: 5

Question: Narrate the complete story of 'Two Cats and the Monkey' in your own words.

- Answer Key: One day, two friendly cats were playing on the road when they found a roti. They decided to share it equally but started arguing about who got the bigger piece. Unable to resolve the dispute, they asked a monkey sitting on a wall to be their judge.

The cunning monkey had been watching their fight and saw an opportunity. He pretended to compare the pieces, taking a bite from one saying it was bigger, then from the other. He kept repeating this until the entire roti was gone. The helpless cats could only watch. The monkey jumped on the wall and vanished. The cats realised they were foolish to fight and trust a stranger. Moral: Fighting amongst yourselves allows others to take advantage of you.
