Question 26

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_026

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: Explain why the jackal's reasoning was flawed.

Answer Key: He assumed that the dham-dham sound meant a living creature was inside, but it was just branches hitting the drum leather.

Question 27

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_027

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: How does greed contribute to the jackal's mistake?

Answer Key: His greed for tasty food prevented him from carefully investigating the source of the sound first.

Question 28

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_028

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: What could the jackal have done differently to avoid disappointment?

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_037

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: How does this story demonstrate the concept of hypothesis testing?

Answer Key: The jackal had a hypothesis (food inside) but never tested it — he committed fully and only learned the truth after.

Question 38

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_038

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: Why did the jackals choose nighttime for their plan?

Answer Key: Night provided cover and secrecy, showing they treated their wrong assumption as a serious hunting plan.

Question 39

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_039

Difficulty: Medium

Marks: 2

*Question: What would a wise jackal have done differently?

Answer Key: A wise jackal would have investigated the sound source, looked inside the dhol, and verified before committing effort.

Question 46*Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_046Difficulty: HardMarks: 2Question: Assess the relevance of this Panchatantra tale to modern information literacy.Answer Key: Just as the jackal trusted incomplete sensory data, people today often trust unverified online content — both need evidence-based verification.*Question 47Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_047Difficulty: HardMarks: 2Question: Critique the jackal's decision-making process step by step.Answer Key: 1. Heard sound (limited data). 2. Imagined food (unfounded). 3. Told friend (spread assumption). 4. Acted at night (secrecy). 5. Found nothing (consequence). Each step lacked verification.*Question 48Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_048Difficulty: HardMarks: 2Question: How does the story build vocabulary and inference skills for Class 3?Answer Key: Introduces words like valiantly, formidable, conclude; requires inferring character motivations and evaluating outcomes.Question 49Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_049Difficulty: Hard

Marks: 2

*Question: Formulate a classroom activity based on this chapter.

Answer Key: Give students sealed boxes with different objects inside; have them guess contents using only sound before opening — demonstrating the lesson of verification.

Question 50

Question ID: BK03_CH02_SA_050

*Question: What is the ultimate lesson of Chapter 02 for young learners?

Answer Key: Always verify before you act — investigate thoroughly, question your assumptions, and gather complete evidence before investing effort.

5. Long Answer & HOTS Questions

> Category: Long Answer | Total: 50 Questions | Marks: 5 each

Question 1

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_001

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Remembering

Marks: 5

Question: Narrate the complete story of 'The Jackal and the Dhol' in your own words.

Answer Key: Once upon a time, a king won a long battle fought valiantly against a formidable enemy. To celebrate, he held a grand party with dancers, singers, and musicians. During the celebration, a dhol fell and rolled into the nearby forest. It got stuck in a tree where branches kept hitting it, producing a dham-dham sound.

A jackal passing by heard the sound and observed the dhol from a distance. He wrongly concluded that a soft, delicious animal was trapped inside the dried leather. Excited, he told his friend about the 'tasty animal.' At night, they went together and tore the leather on both sides with great effort. But they found absolutely nothing inside — the dhol was hollow and empty. Disappointed, they realised all their labour was wasted. The moral: Do not act without detailed information.

Question 2

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_002

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: Describe the character of the jackal and explain why he is considered foolish.

Answer Key: The jackal is curious, greedy, and impulsive:

- Curious: He investigated the strange sound in the forest.
- Greedy: He immediately assumed the sound meant food without checking.
- Impulsive: He told his friend and tore the dhol apart at night without verifying.
- Foolish: He drew conclusions from incomplete evidence (just sound), never tested his assumption, and wasted his entire night's effort for nothing.

Question 3

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_003

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

Question: Explain the moral 'Do not act without detailed information' using examples from the story.

Answer Key: The moral warns against hasty action based on assumptions. In the story, the jackal heard the dham-dham sound and assumed a delicious animal was inside. He never looked inside, smelled for food, or tapped the dhol to check. He committed great effort to tear the leather, only to find nothing. If he had gathered detailed information first, he would have saved his effort.

Question 4

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_004

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Remembering

Marks: 5

*Question: How did the dhol end up in the forest and start making sounds?

Answer Key: During the king's grand victory celebration, one dhol fell and rolled into the nearby forest. It rolled from place to place and finally got stuck in a tree in such a position that the tree's branches would hit it and produce dham-dham sounds whenever the wind blew.

Question 5

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_005

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What is the significance of the king's celebration at the beginning of the story?

Answer Key: The king's celebration sets up the entire plot. Without the victory party with music and performers, the dhol would never have fallen into the forest, and the jackal would never have been deceived by its sound. It serves as the inciting incident.

Question 6

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_006

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Remembering

Marks: 5

*Question: Describe the effort the jackals put into tearing the dhol and what they discovered.

Answer Key: The two jackals worked with great physical effort, tearing the dried leather on both sides of the dhol. After much labour, they succeeded in removing the leather — but found nothing inside. The dhol was completely hollow and empty. All their effort was wasted, and they were deeply disappointed.

Question 7

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_007

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain the meanings of the vocabulary words: Valiantly, Formidable, and Conclude.

Answer Key: 1. Valiantly: Bravely — the king fought the battle bravely.

2. *Formidable: Inspiring fear — the enemy was so powerful that it inspired fear.

3. *Conclude: To form an opinion based on understanding — the jackal concluded that food was inside the dhol.

Question 8

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_008

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Why did the jackal decide the sound meant food was inside?

Answer Key: The jackal heard the continuous dham-dham sound from the dhol. He concluded that something soft was being hit inside, and imagined it must be a delicious animal trapped between the dried leather of the drum. His greed and imagination led him to this wrong conclusion.

Question 9

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_009

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Applying

Marks: 5

*Question: What would have happened if the jackal had checked inside the dhol before tearing it?

Answer Key: If the jackal had peeked through a hole or tapped the dhol to check, he would have discovered it was just a hollow drum with no animal inside. He would have saved himself and his friend a night of wasted labour.

Question 10

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_010

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Summarise Chapter 02 in five key sentences.

Answer Key: 1. A king won a battle and held a grand celebration with music and dance.

2. A dhol fell and rolled into the forest, where branches hit it and made sounds.

3. A jackal heard the dham-dham and assumed a delicious animal was trapped inside.

4. He and his friend tore the dhol's leather at night but found nothing inside.

5. The moral: Do not act without detailed information.

Question 11

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_011

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: What role does the jackal's friend play?

Answer Key: The friend blindly trusts the jackal's claim about a tasty animal inside the dhol. He joins the effort without questioning the assumption, doubling the wasted labour. This shows how unverified information can mislead multiple people.

Question 12

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_012

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Why is the Panchatantra important for children's education?

Answer Key: The Panchatantra uses engaging animal stories to teach practical life skills like critical thinking, caution, integrity, and decision-making. Its lessons about human behaviour are timeless and easy for young readers to understand and remember.

Question 13

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_013

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Describe the emotional journey of the jackals throughout the story.

Answer Key: The jackals start with curiosity (hearing the sound), move to excitement (imagining food), build anticipation (planning the nighttime mission), invest effort (tearing leather), and end with deep disappointment (finding nothing).

Question 14

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_014

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain how sound can be deceptive in natural settings.

Answer Key: In the forest, natural elements like wind, branches, and terrain can create sounds that resemble living creatures. The dhol's dham-dham was caused by branches, not an animal. This shows that sounds alone are unreliable evidence for conclusions.

Question 15

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_015

Difficulty: Easy

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

*Question: Write a letter from the jackal to his friend apologising for the wasted effort.

Answer Key: Dear Friend,

I am truly sorry for leading you on a fool's errand last night. I heard a sound from the dhol and hastily assumed food was inside without checking. Because of my mistake, we both wasted our entire night tearing leather for nothing. I have learned that we must always verify our assumptions before acting. I promise to investigate properly next time.

Your regretful friend,

The Jackal

Question 16

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_016

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain why going at night did not help the jackals succeed.

Answer Key: Going at night only provided secrecy but did not change the fundamental problem: there was no animal inside the dhol. No amount of stealth or effort could create food where none existed. The timing was irrelevant to their flawed assumption.

Question 17

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_017

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Analyse how greed affects the jackal's reasoning throughout the story.

Answer Key: Greed for food drives every step: it makes the jackal imagine food from mere sound, prevents him from investigating carefully, motivates him to recruit his friend, and pushes both into exhausting labour. Greed clouded his judgement at every decision point.

Question 18

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_018

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Comparing

Marks: 5

*Question: Compare the jackal's story with the fable of 'The Fox and the Grapes'.

Answer Key: Both characters act on desire without verification. The fox declares grapes 'sour' when he can't reach them (rationalisation); the jackal assumes food exists based on sound (false assumption). Both demonstrate flawed reasoning driven by desire.

Question 19

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_019

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the story demonstrate the scientific method's importance?

Answer Key: Science requires: 1) Observation 2) Hypothesis 3) Testing 4) Conclusion. The jackal observed (heard sound), hypothesised (animal inside), but SKIPPED testing and went straight to action. The story demonstrates what happens when you skip the testing step.

Question 20

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_020

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Applying

Marks: 5

*Question: What would be a safe way to investigate strange sounds in a forest?

Answer Key: 1. Observe from a safe distance. 2. Look for visual evidence. 3. Approach cautiously. 4. Tap or test the object. 5. Only act after confirming the source. This systematic approach avoids wasted effort and potential danger.

Question 21

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_021

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Discuss how this story builds vocabulary and inference skills.

Answer Key: Vocabulary like 'valiantly', 'formidable', and 'conclude' expands word knowledge. Inference skills are built as students must deduce why the jackal was wrong, predict outcomes, and evaluate character motives from textual clues.

Question 22

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_022

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Applying

Marks: 5

*Question: How could a teacher use this story for a class discussion on fake news?

Answer Key: The teacher could draw parallels: just as the jackal trusted one unreliable signal (sound), people trust unverified social media posts. Discussion would cover verifying sources, seeking multiple evidence types, and thinking critically before sharing or acting.

Question 23

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_023

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Understanding

Marks: 5

*Question: Explain the concept of 'wasted labour' as shown in this story.

Answer Key: Wasted labour occurs when significant effort is invested in a task based on wrong premises. The jackals spent an entire night tearing tough leather, only to find emptiness. The lesson: verify your premise before investing resources.

Question 24

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_024

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the story illustrate the difference between hearing and understanding?

Answer Key: The jackal heard the sound but misunderstood its source. Hearing is passive; understanding requires analysis. The jackal failed to analyse and instead let his imagination fill the gap between sound and meaning.

Question 25

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_025

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What makes the dhol's situation ironic in the context of the story?

Answer Key: The dhol was meant to create joyful music at a celebration, but it ended up creating a deceptive sound that led to the jackal's disappointment. An instrument of joy became an instrument of deception.

Question 26

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_026

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

Question: Describe the narrative structure (beginning, middle, end) of Chapter 02.

Answer Key: Beginning: King wins battle, holds celebration, dhol falls into forest.

Middle: Jackal hears sound, assumes food, tells friend, they tear the dhol at night.

End: They find nothing inside, realise their labour was wasted, moral stated.

Question 27

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_027

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

Question: What role does patience play in this story?

Answer Key: The jackal was impatient — he rushed from hearing a sound to concluding food existed to acting. Patience would have allowed him to observe longer, consider alternatives, and avoid the mistake.

Question 28

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_028

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

Question: Draft a dialogue between the two jackals after they find the dhol empty.

Answer Key: Jackal 1: 'I cannot believe it! There is nothing inside!'

Jackal 2: 'We tore all the leather for nothing?'

Jackal 1: 'I was so sure the dham-dham meant something tasty...'

Jackal 2: 'Next time, let us LOOK before we tear. We should have checked first.'

Jackal 1: 'You are right. We have learned a hard lesson tonight.'

Question 29

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_029

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

Question: How does this story prepare Class 3 students for evidence-based learning?

Answer Key: By showing that conclusions based on one sense (hearing) without cross-checking (seeing, touching) lead to failure, it trains students to seek multiple evidence types before forming conclusions.

Question 30

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_030

Difficulty: Medium

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: What are three alternative explanations the jackal should have considered for the dham-dham sound?

Answer Key: 1. Wind or branches hitting a hollow object.

2. A musical instrument left behind.

3. Falling fruits or stones creating rhythmic sounds. Any of these would have been more accurate than 'a tasty animal'.

Question 31

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_031

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Analyse the theme of deceptive appearances in the story.

Answer Key: The dhol's sound created an appearance of life where none existed. This theme warns that surface-level perception can be deeply misleading. True understanding requires looking beyond appearances to verify reality.

Question 32

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_032

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Evaluate the philosophical significance of the moral for developing societies.

Answer Key: The moral 'Do not act without detailed information' is foundational to progress. Scientific advancement, governance, and personal growth all require evidence-based decision-making over impulsive action.

Question 33

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_033

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: Compare the jackal's cognitive error with common logical fallacies.

Answer Key: The jackal commits: 1) Hasty generalisation (one sound = food). 2) Confirmation bias (only saw evidence supporting his desire). 3) Appeal to emotion (greed overriding logic). These are common human cognitive errors.

Question 34

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_034

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Synthesizing

Marks: 5

*Question: Synthesise how Chapters 01, 02, and 03 together build a comprehensive wisdom framework.

Answer Key: Ch 01: Think before acting (foresight). Ch 02: Gather information before acting (evidence). Ch 03: Don't fight among yourselves (unity). Together: Wisdom = Foresight + Evidence + Unity.

Question 35

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_035

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

*Question: Design a classroom experiment that demonstrates the lesson of Chapter 02.

Answer Key: Give students sealed boxes containing different objects. Have them listen to sounds, form hypotheses, then open to verify. Debrief on how many assumptions were wrong — teaching the value of verification.

Question 36

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_036

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Critique the narrative effectiveness of using a dhol as the central deceptive object.

Answer Key: The dhol is brilliant because: 1) It connects to Indian culture (recognisable). 2) Its hollow structure creates realistic deception. 3) Its association with celebration adds irony. 4) Tearing leather shows committed but wasted effort.

Question 37

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_037

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Analyzing

Marks: 5

*Question: How does the story model the 'observe → hypothesise → test → conclude' cycle?

Answer Key: The jackal observed (heard sound) and hypothesised (food inside) but FAILED to test before concluding and acting. The story is a cautionary tale about skipping the testing step in the scientific method.

Question 38

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_038

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Evaluating

Marks: 5

*Question: Assess the cross-cultural applicability of the moral.

Answer Key: The lesson 'verify before acting' transcends cultures. Whether in Indian Panchatantra, Aesop's Fables, or modern decision science, the principle of evidence-based action is universally valued.

Question 39

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_039

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Creating

Marks: 5

*Question: Write a short book review of Chapter 02 for a school magazine.

Answer Key: 'The Jackal and the Dhol' is a captivating Panchatantra tale where a curious jackal mistakes a drum's sound for trapped food. With vivid imagery and a powerful moral about verification, it teaches young readers that assumptions without evidence lead to wasted effort. A must-read for budding critical thinkers!

Question 40

Question ID: BK03_CH02_LA_040

Difficulty: Hard

Bloom Level: Synthesizing

Marks: 5

*Question: Synthesise the ultimate lesson of Chapter 02 into a life motto.

Answer Key: Verify before you act: investigate thoroughly, question every assumption, seek multiple evidence sources, and only commit effort after confirming reality matches expectation.
